Trade between the Columbia and Puget Sound

[From the Port Townsend [illegible]

By [illegible] it will be seen that the steamer [illegible] used to leave Portland for [illegible] Sound [illegible] at the 1st of September This will [illegible] commercial [illegible] cargo [illegible] Portland [illegible] forwarded [illegible]

The principal produce of the [illegible] a region that will pay [illegible] where [illegible] flour [illegible] would keep a supply of their surplus stock at [illegible] Sound they will find there a [illegible] a large and [illegible] but an export trade will grow up by means of [illegible] ferred by foreign vessels as well as American [vessels illegible] foreign ports, nearly every one [illegible] more or less spare room after the lumber [illegible] are taken on board which space could be filled up with flour or salmon At present the surplus produce of Oregon the wheat flour salmon, etc., are shipped to San Francisco where they not only have to compete with the California products of the same sort but incur heavy charges of storage drayage, freight, wharfage, commissions and interest It is a fact of which the Oregon public are not informed, that there are greater facilities for foreign shipment from Puget Sound, at the present time than from San Francisco Vessels are constantly loading for Callao Valparaiso, Australia Honolulu, Mauritius Shanghai Hongkong Hakodadi, and other ports as well as [illegible] and [illegible] would be known in these places that cargoes of wheat flour and salmon [illegible] products could be obtained as readily as cargoes of lumber there is no reason why vessels should not come here as well as to San Francisco

The [illegible] look at the facilities offered for importing merchandise from these foreign ports [illegible] twelve months [illegible] foreign vessels coming here to load went first to San Francisco with cargoes and from thence came here for the lumber which they carried on their homeward voyages Now these vessels come here direct and we have to record the significant fact that in nearly every instance these vessels have arrived in advance of their orders which were sent by steamer from China or Peru, to San Francisco and then telegraphed to Puget Sound Vessels have arrived here in thirty days from Shanghai These vessels all come in ballast and we have been repeatedly assured by Captains that they would bring over freight at less rate than is now charged to San Francisco The shrewd business men of Portland certainly will not be long in availing themselves of these facts [illegible] benefits to trade like establishing a line of foreign trade on the Columbia river which will take time and much capital but [t]hey are facts already established We have the vessels here already and more are coming and the Portland merchants can have their cargoes of foreign goods brought here and reshipped to the Columbia at less rates than by the present route via San Francisco

We are certain that if the salmon and flour of Oregon could be obtained here that nearly every foreign vessel would purchase more or less They however cannot well determine what spare room they may have till nearly loaded with lumber and then there is not time to send to Portland for goods and no conveyance direct here

What is required is to have a stock of goods on hand and it is as well and perhaps better for the owners of surplus produce of Oregon to have that surplus stored in Port Townsend, as it is to ship to and store it in San Francisco

We mention Port Townsend because while possessing every requisite for affording business facilities equal to any other point it is also the port of entry, and every foreign vessel must come here on her arrival or departure The facts which we have enumerated are not confined to our knowledge alone they are well known to many of our intelligent and enterprising men of Oregon but the reason why no attempt has [been made illegible] develop this business is that there has been no means of transportation

The [illegible] now offers a [illegible] and we are [illegible] will there [illegible] she will make regular trips on [illegible] There will be no fear but [illegible] plenty of means of transportation [illegible] the [illegible] began to run [illegible] but if Gaday will put [illegible] run [illegible] We think however that if the business is started by the Oregonians with a determination [illegible] business, that there will be enough transportation [illegible] two steamers instead of one [illegible] and is very great [illegible] the present time the supply is limited Oregon [illegible] Oregon bacon and other pr[oduce illegible] by way of San Francisco [illegible] upon the trade direct

THE BRUNSWICK MONSTER A MATCH FOR THE TENNESSEE BIG SNAKE Last Summer some marvelous stories were told by lumbermen and [illegible] about a monster of extraordinary shape and size that was seen in a lake near St George, in that province The creature has shown itself again this season and a correspondent of the St John [illegible] sends the following account of it to the paper

Since last Summer I have not written you respecting the [illegible] in Lake Utopia and [illegible] cause the reports of its frequent appearance have not been current but I wanted to see some one upon whose testimony I could rely and who could furnish a more definite description of it than any heretofore given It has invariably been represented as a huge bulky creature of such length and colossal proportions as to stagger the belief of the most credulous yet, day after day has furnished such a host of eye witnesses to the appearance of this monster and those [illegible] of the most undoubted reliability that in this locality at least it is received as an established [illegible] is more generally seen at the [illegible] of the lake [illegible] always is when the [illegible] from Mill Lake [illegible] point the [illegible] of the quick waters [illegible] appears in various parts of the lake [illegible] after the [illegible] of [illegible] which [illegible] during early spring and in the spawning season In June last a crew of [illegible] engaged in [illegible] J W [illegible] Mill Lake [illegible] saw this thing [illegible] during the [illegible] three weeks The agitation of the waters [illegible] preceded its [illegible] in every instance the water [illegible] seething, boiling [illegible] which float [illegible] its fiery nature and [illegible] preventing its speedy dispersion [illegible] At [illegible] the waters would subside [illegible] would gradually rise showing a surface in no case estimated at less than [illegible] in length and [illegible] feet the height above the water from two to [illegible] feet and the [illegible] at the water line from five to nine feet [illegible] Nally who had charge of the above crew was incredulous as to the existence of such [illegible] [illegible] appearance [illegible] view of it [illegible] around [illegible] until its tail was toward him [illegible] like a porpoise This man's story is universally accepted corroborated as it is by a crew of 30 men To give the many accounts of its appearance to the people living near the lake would fill a volume [illegible] late instance will suffice [illegible] the [illegible] shore [illegible] several times [illegible] came [illegible] as the night fell it gradually [illegible] [illegible] leaving their raft until to day when they [illegible] it with safety [illegible] its destination

EASTERN OREGON

[From the Mountaineer]

CANYON CITY August 2 1868

NEWS FROM THE [illegible]

Within the past few days several of our prospecting parties have returned and from their [illegible] it is quite evident that success did not crown their efforts and the rich gold fields that lay around Stein's mountain—very rich in their imaginations—on arriving in that locality [illegible] from their view and nothing was to be [illegible] They all join to pronounce [illegible] Stein's Mountain a humbug From Malheur nothing definite is yet known The reports are so conflicting that it is impossible to arrive at anything conclusive yet it is generally believed good diggings exist in that locality [illegible] says that rich diggings has been struck on [illegible] but nothing is yet known positively although some are preparing to visit that region

FROM LITTLE PINE CREEK

The new mines recently struck on this creek near the city, are creating some sensation Several claims have been located in that district, and claimants are preparing for active operations The prospects recently obtained seem to warrant them in their enterprise

MARYSVILLE

In this locality there have been some very profitable runs made this season which is quite encouraging Messrs Hare & Co cleaned up after seven [illegible] run—working but eleven men—near twelve thousand dollars Thompson & Co have also been quite as successful—the amount is not known but his company has taken out more than it was very large

CAMP LOGAN

[illegible] accidentally shot himself on the evening of the 16th inst in the leg, inflicting a very severe wound He was riding and had a pistol in his coat pocket, which by some means went off the contents entering his left leg just above the knee causing a very painful but not necessarily dangerous wound

CAMP HARNEY

It was rumored here that General Crook had been ambushed and severely wounded recently by some Indians on Pitt river but the report is not confirmed by those who have recently arrived from Camp Harney The Indians are still coming in but are permitted to go and come at their pleasure and are allowed to retain their arms This may be a good policy, but it is doubted by many who seem to be acquainted with the Indian character and whose experience entitles them to be believed and they say that our Indian troubles are not yet commenced If such should be the case what a dark and dreadful picture does the future present but it is to be hoped that these predictions will prove false, and that those who have charge of our Indian affairs will so provide as to prevent the recurrence of the bloody massacre of 1855 and 1856 the result of the treaty of 1855

DESPERATE BATTLE—CAPTAIN GREEN VICTORIOUS

While Captain Green, the military expressman to Camp Harney was going from this city to that camp last Saturday, he was suddenly astonished by being confronted by a large bear, who seemed to dispute his (the Captain's) right to territory then held and occupied by him. The Captain, as soon as his available forces—a six shooter—could be brought into line, immediately opened fire upon General Bruin, and fiercely the battle raged, with but little advantage to either side. Soon, however, our gallant Captain found his ammunition exhausted and was preparing for a hasty retreat, when to his delight he discovered Captain McFarland in the dim distance slowly approaching the scene of action. Victory gleamed across his breast once more, and loudly did he urge his advancing reinforcement, and bravely did he hold his ground, although destitute of ammunition, until his friend arrived, when hostilities were again resumed, and Mr Bruin soon cried [for] quarters Captain Green was declared victorious but says the next fight he wants more ammunition and heavier artillery

The English Harvest

The following correspondence of the New York Chronicle dated London July 25, 1868, will be read with interest as an English view of the prospects of the wheat market there

A week of intensely hot weather has enabled the farmers to make rapid progress with harvest work and in the southern counties of England a large quantity of produce has already been carted and stacked Harvest work, however is not confined to the southern counties of England but extends far into the north, and has the weather notwithstanding sixteen or seventeen weeks of drought has every appearance of holding on there is every probability that in the course of about a fortnight, the bulk of the wheat crop will have been secured The wheat crop this season will have been harvested at a period when in ordinary seasons the farmers would be only thinking about cutting their crop From all parts of the country the accounts received respecting the crops of wheat are favorable in the extreme and it is now admitted the present is one of the largest and finest crops produced in this country That it should prove to be so can scarcely be a mystery As I informed you about six weeks since as well as on previous occasions the period for sowing both winter and spring wheat was unusually propitious

Both November and March enabled the farmer to attend to his labors under the most favorable circumstances and it is due in a great measure to the fine weather which then prevailed that the wheat plant has stood the test of so much drought It is clear that a dry season is favorable to a heavy yield of wheat Assuming that the plant as has been the case this season has had a good start Our previously large crops were secured in periods of drought and even in drier seasons than the present

But in addition to an abundant yield per [acre] there is the very important consideration that high prices have had the effect of considerably increasing the quantity of land under wheat cultivation and there is consequently not only more wheat planted, but there is also a heavier yield per acre and a greater weight per bushel

According to the last official return the acreage of land under wheat cultivation in England was 3,140,025 acres That return was for the season 1866-7 but since then in consequence of the high prices current the cultivation of wheat has been greatly extended [illegible] Taking the average it is estimated that we have grown at least one-quarter to the [illegible] more than we did last year and consequently with the above quantity of land under cultivation we have produced 1,000,000 quarters of wheat more than in 1867 To what extent the cultivation of wheat has been increased we have at present no means of ascertaining but it is admitted by all farmers that it is very considerable At a very moderate computation it may be asserted that the yield of wheat this year has been increased to the extent of 3,000,000 quarters and that a very substantial improvement has taken place in the quality and condition of the produce My impression is that in weight including the additional four pounds per bushel in the weight of the new produce, the yield of produce has been augmented by 15,000,000 cwt or to the extent of six months importation into the United Kingdom Should the whole crop be secured in good condition we shall enter upon the new season under very favorable circumstances In consequence of this condition of the crop the wheat trade during the week has been greatly depressed and a further decline has taken place in prices

The State Purse

For a year past bitter Copperhead partisans have kept up an incessant attack upon the management of the State Treasury. Nothing has been urged in the form of definite charges against the Treasurer, but insinuations against him have supplied the place of facts, and weak invention prompted and aided by virulent malice, has attempted in divers ways to instil in the public mind a belief that the finances are mismanaged, that peculations are common, and that money is often drawn from the Treasury without authority of law. A blackguard at Salem who lacks the manhood to make himself known, or the courage to put in the form of actual charges what he alleges by insinuation, has written a great number of letters on this subject, which have found their way to the public through the newspapers of his party. These communications are printed with as much parade as if by means of their obscure and groundless allusions the State officials had been already convicted of acts of positive dishonesty. Little attention, however, has been paid to the yelling pertinacity and deep-mouthed rancor of the irresponsible persons who are circulating the charges. The Legislature will soon assemble, and then the State officials will court the fullest investigation and aid it by every means in their power. We are confident that the affairs of the Treasury will be found in such a condition as to baffle even the most inquisitorial efforts of a Democratic Committee to discover the smallest delinquency. Every transaction, however minute, is fully recorded, and the books are kept with such system and order as to render the investigation which is invited an easy task. If there have been any wrongful transactions they may be readily ferretted out, and if the officials have not done their duty, there are good and responsible sureties behind them to be looked to. But it will be again as it was two years ago. At that time these slanderous Copperheads of the basest sort were fabricating calumnious charges similar to those they are circulating now, but a Legislative Committee composed of members of both parties, certified, after making an investigation of the affairs of the Treasury, that everything was quite right, and that the business was efficiently managed. Perhaps it is as well for these anonymous correspondents to continue their calumniations and malice to exhaust their stores of abuse, since the investigation soon to be had, will, unless we are mistaken, effectually silence them.

"Cap in Hand."

The Southern chivalry are not afraid of "negro equality," it is only "poor white trash" and Northern Democrats who are exercised on that score. The chivalry are now treating the negro with marked tenderness and consideration. A few years ago Wendell Phillips, while urging the bestowal of the suffrage upon the blacks remarked that if it were done it would make the negro a man, and every demagogue in the land would be cap in hand before him. The result shows that Phillips knew the South Carolina politicians to a dot. The aristocracy of that State are now "cap in hand" before the negro begging for his vote. To show also how the "progressive Democracy" are getting on in Mississippi, take the following from the Port Gibson Standard:

> "The Colored Democratic Club of Port Gibson, assisted by their white friends, will give a grand barbecue at Port Gibson, on Saturday, June 13th. The other Colored Democratic Clubs, and the white citizens of the county, as well as our friends in Jefferson and Copiah, white and colored, are respectfully invited to attend. There will be speaking during the day. Dinner will be served at 2 o'clock.
> A programme will be published in the next issue of the Standard. GEO RUSSELL, Pres't Dem Club
> JOS. DILLON, Sec'y."

An Oregon Democrat, not being educated up to the standard of the Southern wing of the party, would probably denounce this eating and drinking and jubilating with the colored brethren, as "nigger equality." But he would quickly become reconciled to it if the blacks would only vote his ticket. Even Rev Joseph Smith, who is haunted by the idea that a negro will some time attempt to obtain a seat with him and his family at church, would be cured of that dread by going South and participating in the campaign. He would come back speaking of negroes as "our esteemed fellow citizens of color," and would tell that story of what he saw at Richmond, in a very different view.

The Hero of Sumter.

Beauregard is again figuring prominently in politics. He is still a good Democrat of the true faith, and has not swerved a hair from his principles since he fired on Fort Sumter. He was one of the shining lights at New York during the Democratic Convention and helped to manage that body and dictate its line of action. His record with respect to Abolitionism is clear and unspotted. A few Democrats, like Hancock, departed from the true faith during the war, but Beauregard always stood firm in his opposition to the Abolitionists, and an uncompromising champion of the Democratic idea of a "white man's government." He it was who addressed rebel Congressman Miles in 1862 in the following earnestly Democratic style: "Has the bill for the execution of Abolition prisoners after January next, been passed? Do it, and England will be stirred into action. It is high time to proclaim the black flag after that period. Let the execution be with the garrote." If this record of Beauregard's animosity against the Abolitionists is not proof that he is a first-rate Democrat, what more could be wanted? In truth he is a Democrat, and worthy of the fellowship of his party. Others may waver but the hero who reduced Sumter never.

The North and South, a prominent Democratic journal at Cincinnati, in a late issue says: "We venture to say that not merely in Cincinnati, but throughout Ohio, not only in Ohio, but everywhere west of the mountains, the coolness with which the nomination of Mr Seymour was received by the members of his party has no parallel in American political history. There are very few who are not more than dissatisfied, they are disgusted with the palpable trickery of himself and his supporters in New York, disgusted with the rank stupidity of the Democratic leaders of Ohio who so foolishly came in as the appropriate complement of the others' knavery."

Pollard, the grandiloquent Richmond editor, has written a work entitled "The Lost Cause Regained." He is rather fast—Seymour and Blair are not yet elected.

STATE ITEMS

A new church building is being erected at South Salem by the Methodists.

Great quantities of wheat are being stored for shipment at all points on the Willamette.

Agents of the East Side Railroad are at Salem soliciting subscriptions for their enterprise.

Studies will be resumed at Philomath College on the 1st September, under the direction of Prof. F. P. Henderson.

The Albany College opens on the 7th September under charge of Prof Henry Bushnell, late of Central College, Ohio.

I. N. Gilbert, one of the oldest citizens of Salem, has gone on a visit to the Eastern States. Mr G. came to Oregon in 1846.

The Gazette complains that the quiet of Corvallis is a good deal disturbed by noisy fellows inspired by tangle-leg whisky.

A quartz mill will soon be taken out to the Bohemia mines. Two more ledges have been discovered which prospect well.

Hon E. L. Applegate will, by invitation, address the people of Yoncalla on behalf of Grant and Colfax on the 5th September.

The City Council of Eugene offer the hospitalities of that place to the Eastern capitalists understood to be en route for Oregon.

We acknowledge the receipt of a ticket of invitation to the Washington County Agricultural Fair, to be held in September, commencing on the 15th.

A pair of horse trainers are giving exhibitions in their art at the towns up the valley. They are said to do astonishing things in the way of taming horses.

The Salem paper says that if this smoky and at noon hot, with evenings and mornings cool weather continues long, several druggists will be needed at that place.

The new steam flouring mill at McMinnville, owned by Messrs Warren & Newby, is about ready to run. Wheat is said to be coming into McMinnville at the rate of 1,000 bushels a day.

We have heard that some estimates place the wheat crop of Yamhill county at 800,000 bushels. If this is anywhere near correct, the whole crop of the State must amount to 8,000,000. But we think the estimate on Yamhill too high.

Says the Unionist: A gentleman who has been spending some time in the mountains beyond Silver Creek Falls says that three men were prostrated by the intense heat during the few days of the hottest weather some two weeks ago. Two of the victims died, and the third was in a precarious situation.

PUGET SOUND

Recent tests of the coal discovered at Skookum Chuck show that it is of fair quality. The deposits are very extensive.

The Port Townsend paper says that Capt. Ben Darwin has left Washington Territory, and gives him a notice which is anything but complimentary.

Much of the business pertaining to the U. S. Army and Navy on Puget Sound has hitherto been done at Victoria. Latterly orders from headquarters have put a stop to it, and a Puget Sound paper congratulates the people there on the prospect that they will get the patronage.

The Message, published at Port Townsend, says: The wheat crop of that Territory, west of the Cascades, will not be sufficient for home consumption and both wheat and flour will have to be imported from Oregon. Our farmers have turned their attention more to oats, barley and hay, than to wheat, but wherever the latter has been sowed the yield has been excellent.

Political Brevities

We used to hear of "the barefisted Democracy," but now the World recommends Seymour to the support of the unterrified on the ground that "his hands are as white as a woman's."

The New York Citizen (Democratic) heads its announcement of Seymour and Blair's nomination "Might have been worse." It might have been Wirz, if the miserable scoundrel hadn't been hung.

The Democratic drama is played this way: to a bondholder, they exhibit Seymour's speech demanding payment in gold; to a repudiator, they cite the New York platform requiring repudiation; to a conservative they talk against radicalism, and to rebels they cite Frank Blair's letter in favor of revolution.

In October, 1861, in a public speech, delivered at Utica, New York, Horatio Seymour, Democratic candidate for President of the United States, said: "If it is true that slavery must be abolished to save the Union, then the people of the South should be allowed to withdraw themselves from the government which cannot give them guarantees in its terms."

We are paying $40,000,000 a year in solid gold, as the cost of Democratic threats of repudiation. Our interest on the public debt is over $120,000,000 in gold, when it need not exceed $80,000,000. If our credit were undoubted, foreign capitalists would be glad to lend us money at four per cent and thereby enable us to reduce our annual expenditures for interest at least one third. Is not this paying rather dearly for a Democratic luxury?

At a Ku Klux ratification of Blair's nomination, held near Memphis, recently, Gen Albert Pike said: "The South is our land, the North is a foreign and a hostile realm. Stand at the altar of your country. Swear eternal hatred to its oppressors. Swear that the day shall come when the Susquehannah and Ohio shall be like rivers of fire, as they are now rivers of blood, between your native land and that of the Northern Huns which no man shall attempt to cross and live." That is the kind of creature we are asked to use conciliation with.

The Fort Wayne (Ind.) Gazette publishes the following: "Democracy—Do you regard the national debt? It should be paid in gold, Horatio. Horatio—By the mass, and 'twill be paid in gold, indeed. Democracy—In greenbacks, Horatio. Far better in greenbacks. Horatio—Quite right, my lord, greenbacks it is. Democracy—Or else repudiate. Horatio—Just the thing, my lord. [Democracy exit.] Horatio (solus)—He who steals my principles steals trash, 'tis something, nothing. 'Twas mine, 'tis his, and has been slave to thousands; but he that takes my honor from me robs me of that which nought enriches him and makes me poor indeed."

The true position of the Democracy is clearly demonstrated in the following little incident which occurred at Grafton, West Virginia, last week at the Democratic State Convention. Mr George H. Pendleton, the great embodiment of Democracy, made a lengthy and vigorous speech, setting forth the principles of the party, its objects, &c, and concluded in his best style. After leaving the platform, he was accosted by a one armed man, who stepped up to him and said: "Mr Pendleton, allow me to congratulate you on the excellence of your speech. I can well appreciate it as I lost this arm in defence of the principles you advocate," at the same time holding up to view the stump of his arm. "Ah," said Mr Pendleton, with a bland smile. "Yes, sir," said the ex-soldier, "I lost that arm while fighting in the Southern army against the Abolition Government." Mr Pendleton walked off rather confused, but the soldier reflected his sentiments truly.

The Chicago Tribune of August 13th says: Chicago was jubilant and defiant last night. There was no mistaking the popular feeling. Chicago put on her brightest looks to celebrate the promise of peace and union which is contained in the nomination of Grant and Colfax. At 8 o'clock the streets and avenues leading from all the divisions of the city to the public square were thronged with pedestrians wending their way to the central point of meeting. The West Division, even to the remotest boundaries of the city, sent forth its thousands of earnest patriotic workingmen, resolved to give expression by their presence and their voice to devotion to the Union and to the liberty to be secured by the election of Grant and Colfax. The Thirteenth and Fourteenth Wards of the North Division alone sent more people to the Republican meeting last night than were assembled at the largest and most respectable Democratic meeting ever held in Chicago.

Young women are to be taught by the Government of Prussia how to tend wounded soldiers. A detachment of flying ambulance wagons is set apart for this purpose.

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

DATES TO AUGUST 30

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES

South America—Gen Hunter, A Johnson and Mrs Surratt

The Herald's Rio letter says that Gen Webb has received instructions to demand his passports if a war steamer was not permitted to ascend the river to Asuncion.

Gen Hunter publishes a card stating that he headed the list of the Commission trying Mrs Surratt who petitioned the President for her pardon. He says that while his oath and military law prohibit making known the secrets, he can with propriety look with contempt on the execution of a poor woman while excusing some thousands of rebel men who much more deserved slaughtering.

Tennessee Affairs.

NASHVILLE, Aug 28—The Senate passed resolutions for the appointment of a joint special committee to wait on the President to request and ask that measures for the protection of the people of the State be adopted. The Legislature decline to exhaust all possible means for protection before calling out the militia.

Southern Politics.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Va, Aug 28—Gen Rosecrans left for Washington taking with him an address of the Southern representatives here. The General declined to make it known, but in substance a proclamation of the sentiments of the Southern people on the political situation will be made public by Gen Rosecrans, with an address of his own through the Central Democratic Conservative Executive Committee at Washington. It is signed by Generals Lee, Beauregard, Echols, Anderson, Stephens, Governor Letcher and Perkins and all the prominent men here.

ATLANTA, Aug 28—The Senate has passed a bill postponing the election in Savannah till December.

The House had a long and warm discussion regarding the eligibility of negro members and the right of negroes to hold office. Finally a motion was adopted to reconsider the vote on the minority report.

ALEXANDRIA, Va, Aug 28—In trying a case to day by the Circuit Court an order was received from the military commander directing the case to be dismissed. The counsel for the plaintiff will probably apply to the higher court for a mandamus to compel the Judge to try the case, thus testing the constitutionality of the reconstruction act.

Mortality Among Horses.

NEW YORK, Aug 28—Disease has broken out among the street car horses. Sixteen out of [illegible] have died since Monday. It is supposed to be a spinal disease, and not contagious.

It is now said that Gen Rosecrans addressed a letter to Gen Lee requesting a written expression of the latter's view of the best plan for restoring good feeling. Lee replied by expressing his reverence for the Constitution and desire for the return to union of the States as formerly, and a belief that his desire is shared by the mass of the reflecting people of the South. Lee says the South are anxious for peace and peaceful administration of the Government. They long for privileges of self government. The Southern people will treat the colored people kindly and humanely if left to themselves. He emphatically deplores any attempt to commit the political destinies of the South to colored people before they are prepared for such responsibility. He considers such attempts fraught with misfortune, calamity and destruction both to the negroes themselves. His letter is endorsed by Hancock, Stephens and Stuart.

Gen Schenck Renominated for Congress.

CINCINNATI, Aug 28—The Republicans of the Third District have renominated General Schenck for Congress by acclamation.

Riots by Democrats in Chicago, and Murder by Indians on the Plains

CHICAGO, Aug 28—Quite a serious riot occurred last night at a meeting of Irish Republicans, held in the Eighth Ward to organize a company of Tanners. A large number of Democrats and Irish were present and a disturbance arose. Several men were injured and it is feared fatally.

Dispatches from Denver continue to report Indian outrages in central and eastern Colorado. A number of murders were committed this week on the Smoky Hill route and the Platte stage route. Great excitement exists at Denver as the Indians are stripping the country of all stock and provisions. Not less than twelve persons are known to have been murdered within the past two days.

A congregation of two or three hundred of sorehead Democrats met at the corner of Market and Montgomery streets last night. A stand had been erected for speakers, but when the hour arrived for calling the meeting to order no one appeared. Chas L Weller was called out and informed the crowd that there was no one present who would own to getting up the meeting. The meeting quietly fizzled out, and as a matter of form was declared adjourned.

The Napa Valley Railroad brought down about two hundred and fifty persons to attend the meeting.

MOKELUMNE HILL, Aug 30—A horrible accident occurred near this place yesterday. W. F. Mudge, living on his ranch about five miles from town, went into his pasture to catch his horses. Having caught one of them, a young colt, his feet became entangled in the rope and the horse became frightened. He was dragged for a considerable distance, one leg being broken in three places, his neck dislocated, one eye torn out and his nose cut off. His funeral takes place here to-morrow.

Democratic Meeting at Stockton

STOCKTON, Aug. 30—The Democratic County Convention assembled yesterday for the purpose of nominating a candidate for State Senator, to take the place of the late G. T. Perly, deceased. The following names were placed in nomination: John Tuohy, D. F. Douglass and Thomas J. Keyes.

A motion that the Convention vote by ballot was carried.

The ballot resulted as follows: Tuohy 8, Douglass 12, Keyes 10. John Tuohy having received a majority of all the votes was declared the nominee of the Convention. In the evening a large ratification meeting was held on Main street opposite the Court House. The meeting was addressed by John Hamilton and J. W. Coffroth.

The San Francisco Times says it is understood that Senator Harlan of Iowa will soon visit the Pacific coast on a canvassing tour for Grant and Colfax.

NO TRUTH IN IT.—Many Copperhead papers, some of them no doubt edited by members of the old Know Nothing party, charge that Speaker Colfax was a Know Nothing. The charge has been repeatedly denied. But having been made, it resulted in producing evidence that Mr Colfax was opposed strongly to the Order. We find in the St. Joseph (South Bend) Register, published at the home of Colfax, the following:

> When Mr Colfax canvassed the district with that distinguished Democrat John C. Walker, who afterward left his country's good, the latter accused him of having taken the Know Nothing oath. Mr Colfax denied it in emphatic terms, branding the denial with such overwhelming proof that [illegible] never again ventured during the canvass. Mr Colfax [illegible] as hostile to foreigners [illegible]. During his political career [illegible] county, that was overwhelmingly Democratic in the district, two thirds of whose voters are foreigners, has been converted through his influence to the cause of Republicanism, and at the last Congressional election gave him a majority of nearly eight hundred. In Clay township, where the Catholic vote has always been in the ascendant, he has time and again received handsome majorities [illegible] in the face of being accused of hostility to foreigners and Romanism.

FROM THE EAST.—The Boise Statesman of the 20th says:

Dr Loryea of Portland and Mr Henry of Philadelphia arrived on the overland stage Sunday night and departed this morning for Portland. The remainder of the party are expected to arrive in three or four days. They will probably spend four or five days here and visit Owyhee before they go on. Business requires Dr Loryea's immediate presence in Portland, or he would stay until they arrive. He feels much encouraged in regard to the interest being manifested lately by eastern capitalists in the Pacific coast, particularly Oregon and Idaho and Washington territories. Of course these gentlemen do not tell all their business; this much is true in regard to it: They want to see the route over which the Union Pacific Company expect to reach the coast. They want to see what the country through which it passes is made of, and what are its inducements for investment. The rapid advance of the railroad and consequent easy access to the mining territories, is just beginning to be noticed by the eastern money kings, and from this time henceforth we may expect their visits to be more frequent. These are but the advance scouts of the thousands who will come to see and either remain or come again to invest.

WHAT SEYMOUR'S NEIGHBORS SAY OF HIM.—The following is from the New York Sun of the 20th:

One of our readers in Oneida County, the home of Gov. Seymour, writes us:

The rural districts of old Oneida are moving quietly but strong for Grant and Colfax since the nominations upon the other side, for the necessity of their election is now palpably felt. The home of ex-Governor Seymour is in our midst, and it is but just to say that socially he has ever been popular with us. But a regiment at least of his former political supporters scattered over these hills declare that his record during the war is as black as Erebus, that his loyalty to the Democratic party during the dark period was immensely greater than they asked for, as he extended it unblushingly into unflinching disloyalty to the Union, that he is now and forever out of place as nominee for President, when the hero who planned and worked out the salvation of that Union is in the field for that honor.

The Democrats of the South say, "Give us a fair election, and we will not complain." Wade Hampton said in his New York speech, that even in South Carolina, if they could have a fair election he would guarantee a Democratic victory in November. But when he got home he explained his idea of a fair election: "Agree among yourselves," said he to his old soldiers, "and act firmly on this agreement, that you will not employ any person who votes the Radical ticket." That's Democratic fair play. The laborer, the mechanic, every man who works for wages, must vote as we direct or starve! This is Democracy with a vengeance. Just about as correct an idea of fair play though as the party has had for the last twenty years.

Out of 861 boys at Eton school, 761 are obliged to learn French. A year or two ago out of 800 boys only 70 were studying modern language. The revolution is due to a parliamentary inquiry.

Capt. De Lagree, who has been exploring Eastern Asia for the French Government during the last three years, died at [illegible] on his return, of sheer fatigue.

The Nashville Gazette with terrible irony says: "When they employ a colored porter in Savannah, the only stipulation is that he shall not run for Congress."

A New York publishing house advertises Pollard's "Lost Cause" as "The only Democratic history of the war."

THE CHRONICLES.

And it came to pass in the third year of the reign of George the Third who was ruler over the land of Webfoot that the news went throughout all the land that KOHN & FISHEL at No 91 Front street, Portland, were selling Dry Goods and Clothing at fabulously low prices, and all the people heard it and they straightway came unto that place, and when they had demanded the price at KOHN & FISHEL'S store they marveled and said: The half has not been told us, for here we can buy all kinds of Clothing and Dry Goods for ourselves or wives and our little ones much cheaper than at any other place in all the land of Webfoot. And from that day even until now the people have come in great numbers to buy their goods of KOHN & FISHEL.

Growing Reputation.—If the entire correspondence from South America, Central America and the West Indies, received by Messrs. Hostetter & Smith during the last twelve months were published at length it would probably be considered one of the most extraordinary collections of approbatory testimony on record. The letters, written in every variety of style and emanating from individuals of almost every class, are, nevertheless, all of the same tenor. Physicians, priests, merchants, planters, military officers, artisans, lawyers, &c tell one story, a thrilling [illegible] without reserve or qualification that the tonics [illegible] in use in those regions have been generally and justly superseded by Hostetter's Bitters.

The confidence manifested by the people of those countries might be fairly called enthusiastic. Yet these are not the only tokens of the growing popularity of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The foreign orders for the article from Europe, Australia, New Zealand, China, Japan, East Indies, Cape of Good Hope, Sandwich Islands, &c, have been heavier than at any former period.

As an antidote to malaria, a stomachic and general invigorant they all testify to its remarkable efficacy.

The days of Drugs are past

When a man was a little bit poorly,

But now thanks to a better acquaintance with ourselves, and a more limited acquaintance with blisterings, purgatives, emetics and sweatings, we prevent rather than cure, and pay proper attention to the laws of health, and use

MATTERS [illegible] THE DALLES.—We [illegible] from the Mountaineer of the 29th. Judge Wilson and family returned this week from [illegible] Stevens River. [illegible] W T [illegible] Wednesday morning, the Rev D R Gray and wife left [illegible] in Ast[illegible]. We are informed that [illegible] School commences its fall session on next Monday, notwithstanding there is no funds in the treasury. Dr Craig, an old and respected citizen of this city, [illegible] all his property attached [illegible] this week. This has been brought about by the decline in real estate and business. A R Booth, [illegible] Jocelyn and Orville Donnell, and [illegible] Donnell, Esq, left on Wednesday morning for White Bluff and the country beyond. [illegible] that Mr Booth is interested in a mining enterprise which promises to pay largely. We publish to-day the Premium List of the award to be made at the next Annual County Fair to be held on the [illegible] Fair Grounds, three miles below town, on the 17th, 18th and 19th of September next. The Society intends doing all within their power to make the fair an entire success. During the fore part of the week Mr C M Lock[illegible] wood started [illegible] three hundred head of horses and mules in charge of Messrs. Neil McFarland and William Miller to stock the road between Boise City and Salt Lake City. The majority of the horses were purchased in this vicinity, the mules belonged to [illegible] Lockwood & Co and had been used in Government freighting. Mr Miller took his wife with him, and we understand he is to be resident agent at Salt Lake City for the Stage Company. Mr John Hailey will continue to carry the mails as heretofore. He did not sell to Wells, Fargo & Co as stated last week. On Sunday morning J [illegible] Williams, [illegible] of this city, was arrested for taking school money deposited in his safe by Mr Cushing, the school clerk, and using it for his own purposes. He was taken before Justice Campbell, when he waived an examination and declining giving bail was taken to jail. On Monday application was made to Judge Wilson for a writ of habeas corpus. The Judge fixed Tuesday 2 P M as the time for hearing the application argued, Humason and [illegible] for the prisoner and Gates for the State. The argument used upon which the writ was asked was that the Justice who committed the prisoner did not hold his office within his own precinct, and therefore the commitment was not according to law. The Judge took the matter under consideration until Wednesday, when the writ was granted and the prisoner discharged. On the same day he was again arrested on the same charge and taken before Justice Campbell, who in the meantime had moved his office into his own precinct, and on examination was held to bail in the sum of $1,000 to appear at the next session of the Circuit Court, in default of which he was sent to jail. The failure of John Williams has been all the talk for the past week. There is hardly a person in our [illegible] what is more or less affected by it.

OREGON CITY ITEMS.—The Enterprise of [illegible] makes the following items: The steamer Ann is being refitted at the [illegible] ship yard. Prof. Grob's music class in this city, which has been in recess for four weeks past, will [illegible] on Wednesday next. The Water [illegible] Company have been compelled to cover their reservoir, to prevent [illegible] annoyances from bad boys. Judge Matlock we are happy to state has so far recovered that he has been able to ride to the coast, where it is hoped that his health may be satisfactorily [illegible]. Deputy Grand [illegible] J M Bacon, of the Grand Lodge I O O F [illegible], left this city on Tuesday last for Umatilla, where he [illegible] "Overland Lodge No. 2[illegible]," and returned [illegible] home again on Friday morning. All the ship carpenters in this vicinity that could be spared, having gone to the Middle Columbia, where they will be employed by the Oregon Steam Navigation Company in refitting the [illegible] stern-wheel steamer Oneonta. There will be no [illegible] business transacted at the session of the County Court, to convene in this city on the 7th of September. In [illegible] of the ill health of Judge Matlock. The last day of the month has been set for such business. The [illegible] says that over one hundred people have come [illegible] S. D. Pope of [illegible] city on a last Saturday [illegible] of the score of the late game played between the [illegible] and Pioneer clubs, [illegible] with the former [illegible] the first victory [illegible] the latter. Speaking [illegible] quartz mines the Enterprise says: [illegible] and iron [illegible] the [illegible] was [illegible] made by—E W Tra[illegible] [illegible], Mark A King, $[illegible]. Messrs K[illegible] and [illegible] Bros each made assays of the ore [illegible] produced $[illegible] per [illegible] $9 gold per ton—the [illegible] silver and $7 gold per ton. The total value [illegible] the same. Whilst these assays were all satis[illegible] the holders, a few outsiders felt that they [illegible] to know positively for themselves whether [illegible] about it—took a specimen of the [illegible] pounded it in a mortar, and assayed it, the [illegible] the value per ton to be $377 40, in ac[illegible] with previous assays.

[illegible] LATIONS OF A DEFAULTER.—The Mountaineer [illegible] concerning the trials and tribulations of [illegible] whose arrest here was noticed some days [illegible] out, who worked for F. Wyckman [illegible] business in this city some two years ago, left at that time for the upper country without paying [illegible] debts, amounting in all to nearly [illegible] dollars. Belmont arrived here from silver [illegible] Deputy Sheriff Schutz was [illegible] on his track, and soon learned that he had a [illegible] On Friday morning Belmont [illegible] to leave on the boat for Portland, but [illegible] Schutz and on [illegible] taken to jail [illegible] that were brought against him [illegible] he was released he started off on the [illegible] Schutz having ascertained that he was [illegible] parties procured the necessary [illegible] Saturday morning a boat for the Cascades [illegible] his appearance, which he did [illegible] Deputy Schutz kept out of his [illegible] were cast off from the [illegible] and when out in the river he walked [illegible] again arrested him, when he again [illegible] While at the Cascades Deputy [illegible] Belmont had to [illegible] the Sheriff at Portland [illegible] of the party, and was answered that he [illegible] gentleman. On the arrival of the [illegible] Belmont tried to get on shore but [illegible] Schutz invited him to take [illegible] left for Port[illegible] was waiting to receive Belmont [illegible] him to jail. On being searched there was [illegible] on his person, also letters that proved [illegible] a defaulter to the amount of $2,000 at Silver [illegible] he had been acting as treasurer [illegible] company. Warrants had been received [illegible] from Silver City. Gasper Bel[illegible] sent back from whence he came, to [illegible] the money left in his charge.

[illegible] SOCIATION.—Mr R E C[illegible] [illegible] actively instrumental in carrying forward the [illegible] Land Association of this city, informs us [illegible] was perfected on Saturday by the [illegible] incorporation articles [illegible]. The association has purchased a tract of one [illegible] land just beyond the cemetery, on the [illegible] road, the greater portion of which is eligibly [illegible]. The capital stock is divided into one hundred [illegible] of which represents an undivided interest in [illegible] of land. The shareholders pay a monthly assessment of $12 on each share [illegible] shall be paid [illegible] If thought desirable the land is to be divided [illegible] hundred lots and disposed of to shareholders [illegible] the following manner: [illegible] will be offered at [illegible] more desirable than another it will [illegible] a premium, the highest bidder to take it. [illegible] disposed of in this manner the [illegible] deducting expenses will be equally divided [illegible] stockholders. The [illegible] and [illegible] all. If one gets a better lot than [illegible] will have paid proportionately more for it, [illegible] of the less desirable lots will have paid [illegible] less. The project of the Association [illegible] of realizing handsomely from their investment [illegible] the next two or three years by the advance [illegible] value of their lands, and judging from the [illegible] similar associations at San Francisco, we can [illegible] to doubt that their expectations are well [illegible].

[illegible] A "tremenjus" shower of rain, to [illegible] the smoke which has become so dense as to be absolutely [illegible] fectable and deleterious to health. Wanted [illegible] of magnificent proportions to lay the dust [illegible] everywhere in depth ranging from the six [illegible] inch to sixteen inches. [illegible] BLAST.—On Saturday the [illegible] work just above Cauemah [illegible] of rocks, a few rods above the village, which [illegible] huge affair. We did not learn the amount [illegible] but the weight of rock [illegible] to reside there [illegible] hunting probably [illegible] that nearly the whole [illegible] blasting. The [illegible] surrounding neighborhood.

[illegible] Some time since we made [illegible] of the fact that a colt raised in [illegible] County [illegible] San [illegible] for $1,700 and gave the [illegible] of raising him to Mr Myer. Our correspondent [illegible] Mr Myer [illegible] some fine horses, but [illegible] who raise fine horses in [illegible] only.

[illegible] CORRECTION.—In our item of Friday morning concerning the St. Helens lumber mill it was stated that the mill would shortly be run day and night, when it is expected that it will cut 150,000 per month. This sum of [illegible] one cipher. The amount should have been stated, 1,500,000 feet.

AT HOME.—Dr. [illegible] M. Lor[illegible], who has been several months absent east in the interest of the East side rail road, reached home, Saturday evening, by the overland route via Salt Lake and Boise City.

NEW INTEREST IN THE MINES.—Quite an interest is again manifest [illegible] looking [illegible] mines [illegible] have been prospected this summer and the results are [illegible] encouraging.

OREGON [illegible] The [illegible] of Oregon [illegible] on Saturday were [illegible] flour [illegible] unspecified, and [illegible] 000 feet [illegible] lumber.

HELPS TO HARVEST.—"Helps to read" were a big thing in their day, but they are scarcely knee high to the various sorts of helps by which the labors of [illegible] are now eased. Among the most important of these are the helps to harvest [illegible] giant [illegible] use. [illegible] a new [illegible] will be comprised at a state meet of the great [illegible] threshers, [illegible] latest improvements [illegible] within the last six months. We recollect hearing a farmer early in the [illegible] Kn[illegible] Burrell [illegible] expected [illegible] heavy [illegible] machines [illegible] they had [illegible] The wharf just south of the Exchange Hotel was then jammed [illegible] threshers [illegible] more than two [illegible] of them left. [illegible] better than had the farmer, and he was a man of intelligence, too, and [illegible] general information [illegible] the farm [illegible] That so many of them are getting [illegible] is surprising [illegible] work of almost a regiment [illegible] The Corvallis Gazette [illegible] one of these helps to harvest after having seen it work [illegible] could the farmer of twenty five or thirty years ago been permitted a [illegible] Van Winkle nap, and waked to have accompanied us last Wednesday afternoon to a wheat field of Mr J C Alexander just beyond the corporation limits, we think he would easily have imagined himself a second Hafed and an actual inhabitant of the world of chance. In the morning at eight [illegible] a field of 20 or 25 acres of wheat was waving in the breeze and at sun down was cut, threshed, [illegible] hauled to the city, and placed in W B Ham[illegible] warehouse.

PETITIONS FOR FREE SCHOOLS.—Copies of the following petition drawn by Mr W. F. West, at the instance of the State Teachers' Institute, has been forwarded to each of the County School Superintendents, with a view of having them equally circulated for signatures and then presented to the Legislature:

To the Honorable the Members of the Legislature of the State of Oregon:

WHEREAS, Our sister States have nearly all adopted the free school system of education and for years have found it to work admirably; and

WHEREAS, We believe that it is the duty of a representative government to maintain public schools as an act of self preservation, and that the property of the State should be taxed to educate the children of the State; and

WHEREAS, The present school fund is wholly inadequate to sustain a system of free schools of any considerable extent; We, the undersigned, qualified electors of the State of Oregon respectfully ask your honorable body to levy an additional State tax of three mills on the dollar for school purposes or so much as shall be found necessary to support a free school in each district for at least six months in the year, and that the proceeds of the same be disbursed in the same manner as the present State school fund.

Reminiscence of Southern Oregon

The Jacksonville Sentinel publishes the following. It is understood that T Vault, commonly known as "Old T.," is the hero of the sketch:

The following pleasing incident is related to us by an eye witness, and the principal actor is still a resident of this State, and a well known local politician in his own county. During the early settlement of this valley a legal individual, whom we shall T for short," was engaged in carrying the mail from Yreka to Oregon City. On one of his trips, in the spring 1'5!, T arrived at Willow Springs, then a lively and flourishing mining camp. The boys were on a big spree, and as T. was tired and thirsty, he concluded to hang up there for the night. His mule cared for, and the great U. S. mail sack stowed away, T. joined the festive crowd and was soon on a regular "ear." It so happened that the Indians had been committing some devilry in the neighborhood, and the probability of a general outbreak was the topic of conversation. T. considered himself a man of executive ability, and as sundry drinks had made him rather lively, he proposed active measures at once, and with an Arkansas yell suggested a war dance to begin with. The boys responded, and soon the crowd was engaged in a performance that would have made the liveliest tribe this side of the Rocky Mountains ashamed. T. was conspicuous. With an appalling whoop, he skinned his coat. Another yell, and off came his buckskins. Snatching an old saddle blanket and throwing it over his shoulders, he danced first on one leg, then on the other; he squatted, pirouetted, waltzed, and jumped like an excited savage till the crowd stopped in breathless admiration. T. was frantic with delight. He was Big Injun! Observing an old fashioned dinner pot standing in a corner of the camp, he concluded that it would add much to his warlike appearance and just cap the climax, which it certainly did. To seize it and thrust his head into it was the work of a moment; to get his head out was another thing. Another drink and away went the dance led by the now invincible warrior. Forth from the iron circumference came the most ghostly yells; the blanket flew wildly. T. bounded and leaped and yelled, till at last in a moment of desperate frenzy while making a cut at an imaginary foe, the pot slipped over the warrior's nose, and there it stayed. The crowd roared and and danced round the imprisoned chief, but in a short time the situation became very uncomfortable. The bottle was passed, but unfortunately the neck would not pass the edge of T.'s helmet. Efforts to release him were unavailing; nature had provided him with a proboscis of extraordinary dimensions, and a large portion of his head was behind his ears. Stretched on the ground,

> "He lay like a warrior taking his rest,
> With his iron pot around him."

Matters were becoming serious. T.'s lips were getting parched, his head was swelling, but the pot wouldn't give a hair's breadth and piteous groans, like a voice from the tomb, came from the sonorous depths of the unyielding prison. Various plans to release the prisoner were proposed. One suggested blowing up the pot with powder, but T. objected as well as he was able; another proposed to build a fire around it and melt it off, but the warrior writhed in agony at the idea of having his classic head roasted like an Irish potato, and with a half smothered yell darted to his feet, and several of his tormentors became very intimately acquainted with his formidable head piece. The scene was now indescribable. T. commenced the warrior's death song. The drunken crowd whooped madly as the now desperate victim went butting and driving among them like a flying Mercury or blind Sampson among the Philistines. Some one seized him by his flying under garment and down to earth he came again. A number of the boys, who thought the fun had lasted long enough, seized Don Quixote and held him fast. One stalwart fellow took the pot by the ears, and bracing himself against T.'s shoulders, gave a vigorous pull, but an awful and unearthly groan from the pot warned him to desist—T.'s nose was about to come out by the roots! One [illegible], not so drunk as the balance, proceeded [illegible] and laying the pot with its precious legal [illegible] on a rock, poised himself for a giant and [illegible] blow. "Strike a soft lick," muaned the [illegible]. Down came the ax fair and square, the pot [illegible] like a steamboat bell, and its sonorous [illegible] mingled with the despairing groans of the [illegible]. In a few seconds he called for pen, ink and paper, and intimated that his last dying speech and confession might be a warning to the rising [illegible]. He recounted the number of public positions he had filled, related in an undertone a number of little peccadillos, and bemoaned the sad fate that forced the "Webster" of the Pacific to end his days in an infernal old three legged pot. Fortunately no such fate awaited him. A messenger was dispatched about twenty miles for a file, and the doughty chief, who was going to eat the whole Rogue river tribe without seasoning, was filed out the next day, his handsome nose turned up like a half peeled potato, his head swelled, and himself feeling like a man who had been in a tight place. He still lives—is quite venerable now, but loses no opportunity to administer a vicious kick to every three legged pot that comes in his way, provided it can be done on the sly.

The Northern Pacific Railroad.—Oregon will be best served by the immediate construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad. The northern road built, the commerce of the Pacific centers on Puget Sound, whitening its waters with a thousand sail, bringing from India, China and Japan their teas and fabrics for the supply of the whole interior of North America; they will seek return cargoes of breadstuffs, coal, iron, lumber, wool, and all the country can produce. The local wants, too, of Washington Territory, its great interests of coal, lumber and fisheries furnish a demand, growing and destined to become vast for breadstuffs.

Puget Sound is the natural outlet of Oregon. There, within one hundred miles of the Willamette, is the natural market for all that Oregon can produce, needing only the develment by the Northern road to bring the entire shipping of the Pacific to find their cargoes at her granaries.

The question is, will Oregon prefer San Francisco eight hundred miles distant, with the competition of a rich and teeming soil, to Puget Sound, one hundred miles distant, with no rivalry in agricultural products? Not only will the saving in transportation between the Sound and San Francisco be as one to eight, but being eight hundred miles nearer the populous East by the track of commerce, the Sound can offer for merchandise in increase of price the cost of eight hundred miles of freighting.

In supplying the nations of the East with the productions of Oregon, Puget Sound has over San Francisco the advantage of 1,500 miles of ocean carriage.

In fine, the great metropolis of the Pacific will be on Puget Sound, and Oregon will become one of its feeders. The day is not far distant. Oregon's capitalists are realizing slowly her true position.

GRECIAN CROSS.

A good story is told of Dr. O. W. Holmes, who, having been called upon and considerably bored by a gentleman who had devoted himself to lecturing in New England without much ability for doing so, inquired, "What are you about this particular time?" "Lecturing, as usual. I hold forth this evening at Roxbury." The Professor, clapping his hands together, exclaimed, "I am glad of it; I never liked those Roxbury people."

Horace Greely, in one of his autobiographical papers in the New York Ledger, thus sums up the result of his year of investigation and observation of spiritualism: That the thing is inexplicable; that men and women have not been made better by it; on the contrary, have grown lax in their notions of marriage, divorce and moral purity, and that the aggregate of insanity and suicide has been increased by the adoption of the theory.

A child in an English Sunday School, being called upon to say her text, delivered herself of the following: "He that hatched me, hatched my father also." After some questioning it was discovered that the passage which the little innocent intended to repeat was, "He that hateth me hateth my Father also."

Restore your health and you will not only enjoy life better, but make your company more tolerable to those who must keep it.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

Portland, Og'n, July 28, 1868.

As there are a great many people sick and dying of a disease called Cholera Morbus, I would call attention to the Chinese Doctor Jim. Having eaten green fruit I was taken very bad with the above disease, and lay insensible for four hours, when Dr. Jim was called, and in 20 minutes after he gave me the first dose of medicine I was easy and asleep. I believe that there is no other doctor on the Pacific coast that could have relieved me as quick as Dr. Jim did.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

I would be glad to get a case into the United States Court and get a decision. That would forever stop the mouth of Myers and his misrepresentations. TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

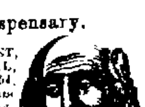
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary.



616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn-to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid Imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.
Consultations FREE.

EXTINGUISHER
PORTABLE
SELF-ACTING FIRE ENGINE!

THIS INVENTION HAS FOR ITS OBJECT THE extinguishing of Fires in a more instantaneous manner than has hitherto been discovered.
The advantages to be derived from the use of the EXTINGUISHER are as follows:
Every fire begins on a small scale, and its rapid and uncontrollable increase is owing to the fact that at the time of its commencement (when every moment's delay in checking it is of the utmost importance) no are ready at hand.
The EXTINGUISHER is the only Engine that fills this requirement.
It is always ready for use, though standing unused for years.
It puts out Fire instantly.
It saves the great deluge of water now used for this purpose.
It is as effective in the hands of a Boy as the most experienced Fireman.
It is portable, and as easily handled as a bucket of water.
It possesses the power of a force pump, and is as effective as a Steam Engine.
It is the only known invention that will put out Fires from Kerosene, Tar, Naphtaline and combustible materials.
PRICE No. 2 $50, No. 3 $60.
